

Kratos Announces Expanded Use of NeuralStar and dopplerVUE for Network Situational Awareness for National Defense Agency

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 24, 2011 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Kratos Defense & Security Solutions, Inc. (Nasdaq:KTOS), a leading National Security Solutions provider, announced today that an unnamed National Defense and Intelligence Agency within the Department of Defense has expanded its use of Kratos' situational awareness and network management solutions, NeuralStar and dopplerVUE, across its worldwide infrastructure. Due to customer-related and other sensitivities and considerations, the specific Agency which made this recent contract award and other details are not being disclosed.

NeuralStar specializes in collection of heterogeneous network, IT, application and cyber security event data, integrating this information into custom dashboards for enhanced management and situational awareness. The dopplerVUE component monitors key network elements and provides real-time status information to assure network availability and uptime especially during critical mission operations.

"It is extremely gratifying to see the Agency expand its use of Kratos solutions," said Phil Carrai, President of Kratos Technologies and Training Solutions Division. "As we continue to add advanced situational awareness, cyber security and management features to both NeuralStar and dopplerVUE then we are satisfying the continuously evolving needs of this critical component of our Nation's defense."
