

WFI Announces $29 Million in Unannounced Federal Contracts

SAN DIEGO, April 24, 2006 /PRNewswire-FirstCall via COMTEX News Network/ -- WFI (Nasdaq: WFII), a global leader in the design, deployment, and management of wireless communication networks, information technology solutions and security systems, announced today that its Government Services Division has been awarded previously unannounced contracts, subcontracts, extensions, tasks and contract vehicles in the first quarter of 2006 with an estimated total value of approximately $29 million.

The agreements cover time periods ranging from one month to two years and include awards from Civil agencies and various agencies of the U.S. Department of Defense. Highlights of the first quarter awards include two unannounced contract ceiling increases totaling more than $22 million for continued support for aerial and surface targets for the Naval Air Weapons Station at Point Magu and for continued engineering services at the Pacific Missile Range Facility in Hawaii.

"WFI has helped federal agencies meet their objectives across the nation and around the globe. We're continually to expand our government business among key DoD agencies while developing credibility and cultivating customer relationships," said Eric DeMarco, president and Chief Executive Officer of WFI. "These customers rely on our experience. Whether it's providing field operations support to the Army, engineering services to the Navy or IT services to other agencies of the DoD, we have the ability to help them achieve key operational and business results."

Today's announcement is a summary of the value of all awards received by WFI's Government Services division in the first quarter of 2006 and does not include any government contract amount that was previously announced. All expressed contract award terms and values represent the amounts that WFI expects to receive from the agreements if all options are exercised.

Notice Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains certain forward-looking statements including, without limitation, expressed or implied statements concerning the Company's expectations regarding anticipated operating results for 2006, future financial performance and cash flows and market developments that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are only predictions, and the Company's actual results may differ materially. Factors that may cause the Company's results to differ include, but are not limited to: changes in the scope or timing of the Company's projects; changes or cutbacks in spending by the U.S. Department of Defense, which could cause delays or cancellations of key government contracts; slowdowns in telecommunications infrastructure spending in the United States and globally, which could delay network deployment and reduce demand for the Company's services; the timing, rescheduling or cancellation of significant customer contracts and agreements, or consolidation by or the loss of key customers; failure to successfully consummate acquisitions or integrate acquired operations; the rate of adoption of telecom outsourcing by network carriers and equipment suppliers; the rate of growth of adoption of WLAN and wireless security systems by enterprises; and competition in the marketplace which could reduce revenues and profit margins. The Company undertakes no obligation to update any forward-looking statements. These and other risk factors are more fully discussed in the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-K for the period ended December 31, 2005 and in other filings made with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
