

Kratos Public Safety & Security to Present at the 2012 International Security Conference West in Las Vegas

SAN DIEGO, March 21, 2012 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Kratos Defense & Security Solutions, Inc. (Nasdaq:KTOS), a leading National Security Solutions provider, today announced that two of its employees from the Public Safety & Security Division (PSS) will be presenting at the International Security Conference West (ISC West) taking place March 27th-30th at the Sands Convention Center in Las Vegas, NV.

Jim Henry, Executive Vice President of the PSS Division, will take part in a panel titled "Leveraging Integrators for Design and Project Success" on Tuesday, March 27th at 11:15am Pacific Time. The panel will discuss the benefits gained from relationships between security integrators and design firms, such as security consultants and engineering firms.

Erin Phelps, Director of Business Development and Homeland Security, will speak at the ISC session titled "PSIM vs. Unified Video & Access Platforms: Making the Right Choice" on Wednesday, March 28th at 4:00pm Pacific Time. This session will seek to answer the questions regarding the similarities and differences between a Physical Security Information Management (PSIM) solution and a Unified Video Management System (VMS) and Access Control System (ACS). The speakers will also delineate the key attributes of each solution and the process required in choosing the appropriate system to deliver customer needs.
